August 23 – 21st Sunday in Ordinary Time -Joshua 24: 1-2a, 15-17,18b, Eph 5:21-32, John 6: 60-69

After the miracle of the multiplication of the bread, Jesus was trying hard to take people beyond the miracle to faith – faith in Him. The miracle is fine. The miracle is only a sign. Here in this context, the sign refers to something else. That something is the Eucharist. But Jesus’ explanations are indigestible even for the disciples of Jesus: “This saying is hard; who can accept it”? (6:60). Lack of belief led them to murmur. The murmuring of the First Testament tradition of the desert is found reflected here. In Egypt, the people witnessed the ten miracles/signs that Yahweh has worked for them. They were a call to belief. But people murmured and rebelled on the way to the Promised Land because they did not believe Yahweh in spite of all the miracles that they have witnessed.

I like miracles the way most of us do - so too, the people of Jesus’ time. The miracle can lead one to faith, but it is no guarantee for faith generation. What is a miracle? It is an extraordinary event that we fail to explain with our human capacities. In the book, How to know God, we read: “the actual world of miracles shows that reality doesn’t begin and end at the material level.” Yes, miracles show that there is something beyond this world order. It is impossible to find reasons for miracles through the eyes of science (material world). Our ordinary senses can’t comprehend the nature of the miracles. In the Gospel of St. John, miracles are a call to believe. Those who believe can trust in the Lord who gives his body and blood for our nourishment. This nourishment will take us to the world of immortality – to a world beyond our senses and faculties. Jesus speaks in clear terms about eternal life as a life after death. Jesus’ teaching has shocked the people. But a greater shock is yet to come: “What if you were to see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before?” (6:62). Through that he can only bring more confusion and murmur. Even his closest disciples deserted him upon his death.

When Jesus spoke about the giving of his body and blood as food and drink, many of his disciples left him forever (6:66) because they could not believe. Knowing that all his disciples will desert him at some time, he asks: “Do you also want to leave?” (6:67). Peter’s acknowledgment that Jesus has word of eternal life and that Jesus is the Holy One of God is truly a faith proclamation of the believing community of the late first century A.D. Today too, many do not believe in the giving of the Eucharist. Let us ask the gift of the Holy Spirit to enkindle our hearts to know the truth of Jesus’ giving of himself in Eucharist that gives us inheritance in the heavenly kingdom as His daughters and sons. ~Fr. Jose~
